Brother to Brother (B2B)

Based out of the Office of Diversity & Inclusion, this is a peer led role-modeling program designed to aid in the personal, cultural and educational development and retention of minority male students during their matriculation through Franklin College. Brother to Brother seeks to provide a positive atmosphere that will encourage students to exhibit uncompromising character and academic excellence. It also aids in establishing a cultural foundation for minority male students through small group bonding activities. Students will engage in networking opportunities, build connections amongst one another and set standards of excellence for themselves that they will hold each other accountable for reaching and maintaining. They will also have the opportunity to interact with positive minority male role models from the community in a supportive environment.

In order for this program to be successful, I have established a list of expectations for students.

Expectations:
- Represent yourself, the Office of Diversity & Inclusion and Franklin College in a positive manner
- Be patient, flexible, consistent and reliable
- Be accessible to group leaders and ODI staff members

By signing this form I agree to participate in the Brother to Brother program for the 2015-2016 academic year and to adhere to all of the expectations listed in this contract.
