Instructor of Women’s and Gender Studies, Spring 2021 Appointment

Franklin College invites applications for an adjunct instructor to teach Introduction to Women’s Studies (WST 101) to begin February 1, 2021. We provide a strong, active, and tailored liberal arts education through small class sizes and intentional relationships between students and their faculty mentors. Located about 20 miles from downtown Indianapolis, we support purposeful and practical academic experiences in and out of the classroom that leverage this location as students pursue personal, intellectual and professional growth. Please see www.FranklinCollege.edu for more details.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach one section of this course this spring. This course is currently scheduled on TR 1:45-3:25 pm but is negotiable. Candidates with successful teaching experience and willingness to work in a private small liberal arts setting will receive highest priority. Candidates who can demonstrate a dedication to teaching and the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the College’s continuing commitment to diversity will also be given preference. M.A. or Ph.D. in Women’s and Gender Studies or a related field is required. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Please electronically forward letter of interest and CV that includes a list of references to:
