Lecturer of Bioethics

The Department of Biology at Franklin College invites applications for a Lecturer of Bioethics during fall and spring semesters, beginning Fall 2023. This is a part-time, temporary position in which the lecturer will deliver 100 level courses, with lectures occurring on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

We provide a strong, active, and tailored liberal arts education through small class sizes and intentional relationships between students and their faculty mentors. Located about 20 miles from downtown Indianapolis, we support purposeful and practical academic experiences in and out of the classroom that leverage this location as students pursue personal, intellectual and professional growth. This hire will have the opportunity to teach in our state-of-the-art Science Center.

Candidates with successful teaching experience and a willingness to work in a private small liberal arts setting will receive highest priority. Candidates who can demonstrate a dedication to teaching and the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the College’s continuing commitment to diversity will also be given preference. A Master’s degree in Biomedical or related field is required, with 1-3 years’ experience in secondary education preferred. Please see www.FranklinCollege.edu for more details.

Evaluation of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position has been filled. Applicants should submit a complete application (electronic submissions preferred) including a cover letter, Curriculum Vita, transcripts, and contact information of three references via the following link: Franklin College Faculty Application
