

TENURE-TRACK ASSISTANT PROFESSOR FACULTY POSITION IN ECONOMICS

Do you enjoy teaching and engaging with students? Franklin College invites applications for a tenure track faculty position in Economics at the Assistant Professor level to begin in August 2024. We provide a strong, active, and tailored liberal arts education through small class sizes and intentional relationships between students and their faculty mentors. Located about 20 miles from downtown Indianapolis, we support purposeful and practical academic experiences in and out of the classroom that leverage this location as students pursue personal, intellectual and professional growth. This is a full-time position and the benefits package includes health, dental and vision insurance, life and disability insurance, retirement plan, EAP, and tuition benefits for the faculty member and their family. Please see www.FranklinCollege.edu for more details.

The ideal candidate is an enthusiastic educator who is committed to active and engaged teaching in the areas of economics and economics related courses. Potential courses include Principles of Economics, Intermediate Microeconomics, Intermediate Macroeconomics, Money and Banking, Labor Economics and Management, Econometrics, and Consumer Behavior. Typical teaching load includes 24 semester hours a year and an every-third-year Immersive Term class. Broad service to the college, such as advising and committee work, is also required.

The ideal candidate will demonstrate a commitment to teaching and learning, an openness to innovation, and a genuine dedication to working with undergraduates in a small, collegial liberal arts setting. Candidates must provide evidence of their ability to effectively deliver college level instruction. Ph.D. is required for tenure. ABD candidates will be considered.

Franklin College is committed to upholding the values of diversity, equity, inclusion, and access in all aspects of our work at the College.

Evaluation of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position has been filled. To ensure full consideration, applicants should apply by November 1, 2023. Applicants should submit a complete application including a cover letter, Curriculum Vita, transcripts, three current letters of recommendation with contact information, and a statement of teaching philosophy via the application link: Franklin College Faculty Application
